See what you can do with Google Meet

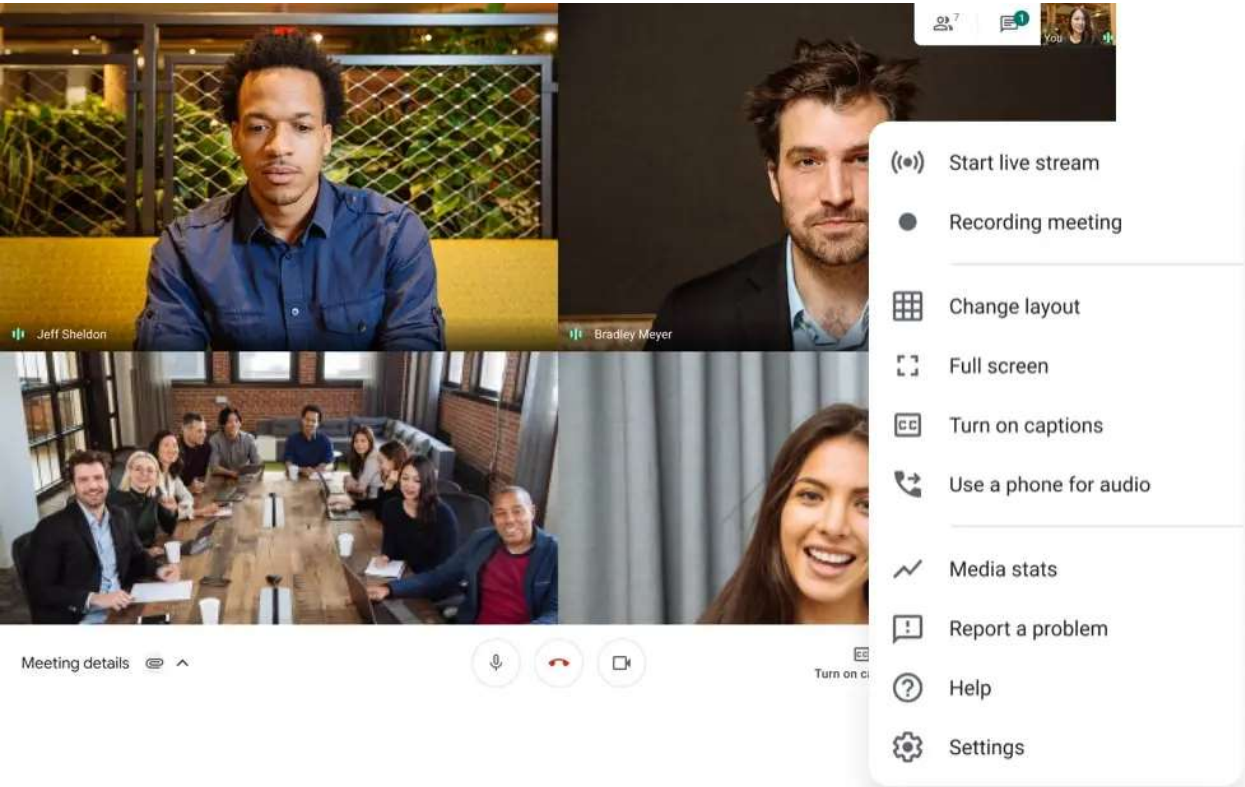

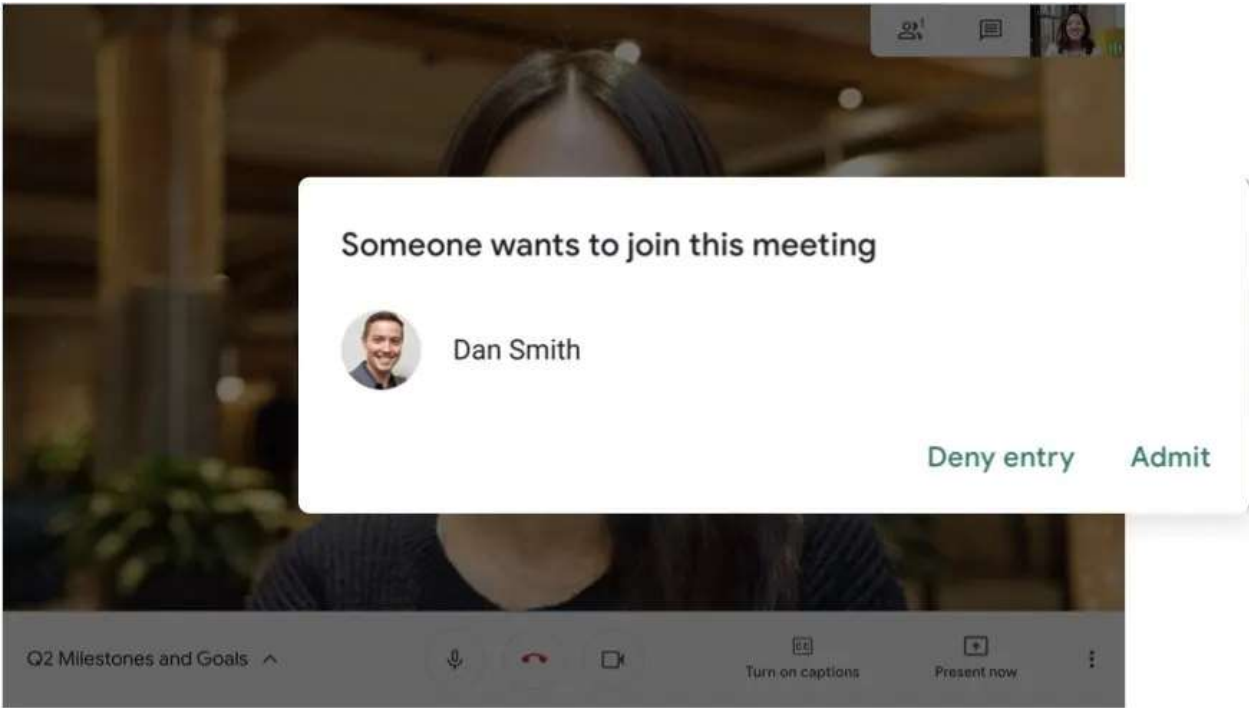

Meet safely

Meet uses the same protections that Google uses to secure your information and safeguard your privacy. Meet video conferences are encrypted in transit, and our array of safety measures are continuously updated for added protection.

Meet from anywhere

Get the whole crew together in Google Meet, where you can present business proposals, collaborate on chemistry assignments, or just catch up face to face.

Businesses, schools, and other organizations can live stream meetings to 100,000 viewers within their domain.

Meet clearly

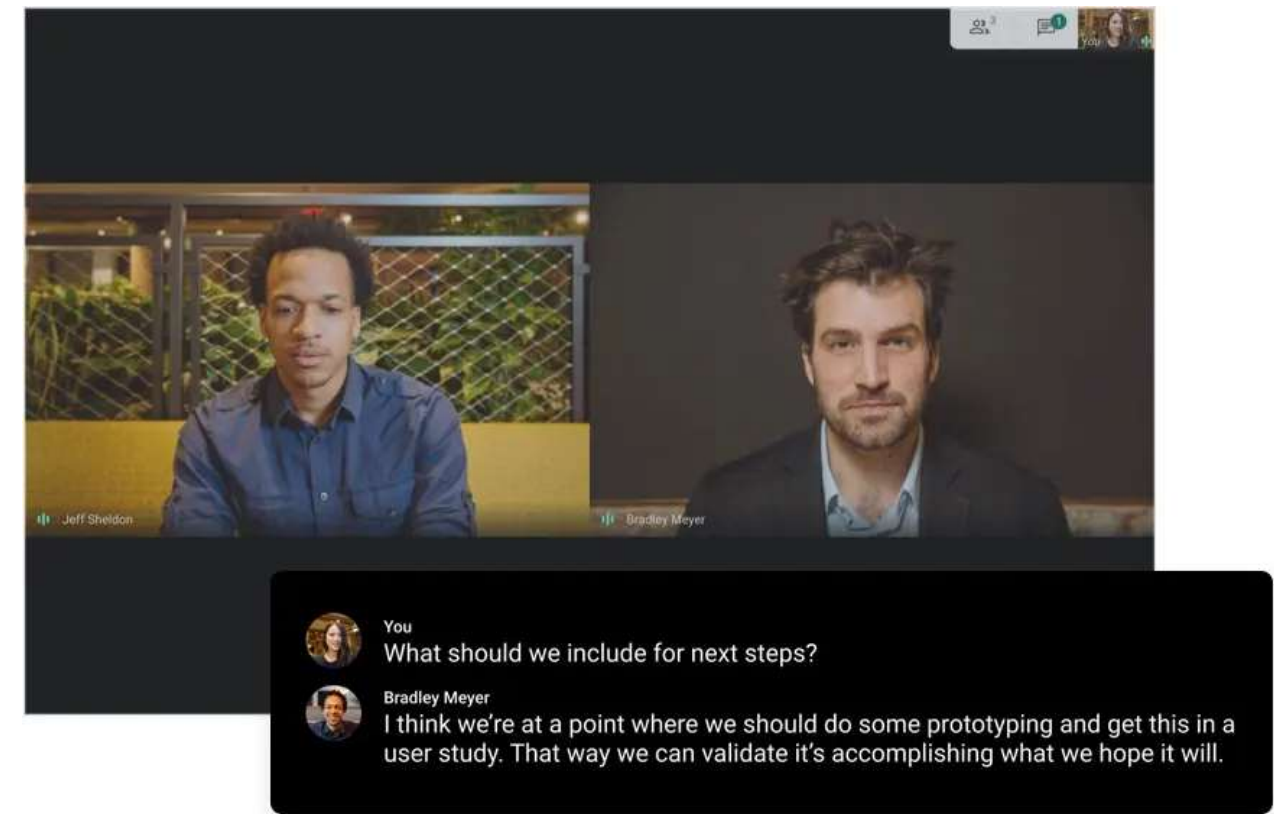

Google Meet adjusts to your network speed, ensuring high quality video calls wherever you are. New AI enhancements keep your calls clear even when your surroundings aren't.

Meet with everyone

With live captions powered by Google's speech recognition technology, Google Meet makes meetings more accessible. For non-native speakers, hearing impaired participants, or just noisy coffee shops, live captions make it easy for everyone to follow along (available in English only).

Stay connected

Simple scheduling, easy recording, and adaptive layouts help people stay engaged and connected.

Share your screen

Present documents, slides, and spreadsheets by showing your entire screen or just a window.

Host large meetings

Invite up to 250 internal or external participants to a meeting.

Join from your phone

Take control

Broadcast internal events

Use the Google Meet app to join a video call, or join audio-only by calling the dial-in number in the meeting invite.

Meetings are safe by default. Owners can control who can join the meeting; only people approved by the meeting owner can enter.

Live stream events such as town halls and sales meetings for up to 100,000 viewers within your domain.
